NEWS FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COMMUTERS

AUGUST 2020

How Full Is My Train?

Metrolink recently introduced an online tool called How Full Is My Train? It allows riders to check the recent typical ridership of their train so they can be assured there's plenty of room for social distancing. The agency is also monitoring ridership so it can add train cars or trains as they reach capacity levels of 30% or more.

Use it at metrolinktrains.com/howfull.

Please note: In addition to following social distancing guidelines, Metrolink requires riders and employees to wear a face mask on trains.

Get Traffic and Transit Updates

Just a reminder that go511.com offers daily updates on transit and traffic changes as they may be affected by safety precautions during the Coronavirus pandemic.

You can also call 511 to get local road and rideshare assistance.

More Metrolink News…

In a recent survey of riders, Metrolink found that hand sanitizers on trains was the most requested amenity. As a result, Metrolink has more than doubled hand sanitizing stations on board every train car.

Look for them located next to each passenger door when you board and exit the train. Dispensers are being refilled frequently throughout the day.

Bike Share Discount

Metro Bike Share is offering a discount for August—the fare will be $1 for a 30-minute ride (vs. $1.75) and a 24-Hour Access Pass (vs. $5). Riders can also save $7 on a 30-Day Pass and $50 on a 365-Day Pass. Visit metro.net/bikeshare for a promotional code to obtain the discount.

Plus a New App

You can also download the new, improved Metro Bike Share app that lets you sign up, purchase passes and unlock a Metro Bike without having to access a station kiosk.

It is available free at the Apple App Store and Google Play.

Bike Share Survey

Metro wants your input — you could win a $200 Visa gift card when you turn in the Bike Share survey.
